Internet Marketing Company Cybertegic Introduces Two New Internet Marketing Services

Internet Marketing Services Company Cybertegic offers two new internet marketing services using Video Marketing and Social Media Marketing for clients to further reach their target market.

Oct. 27, 2008 - PRLog -- City of Industry, CA (Cybertegic.com) -- Cybertegic, an acronym for Cyber Strategic Business Development, is an Internet Marketing services company that expertly helps e-commerce companies get that much-needed publicity in the big world of cyberspace. Already in its 7th year of operations, this pioneering internet marketing company has started and succeeded in all the major internet marketing services, which include Pay Per Click Advertising (PPC Marketing), Organic Search Engine Optimization, Link Popularity Marketing, E-Mail Marketing, Shopping Comparison Site Marketing, and Affiliation Partnership Marketing. All of these internet marketing services are vital in securing an all-important spot in the tough world of cyberspace. By making use of these invaluable internet marketing services, Cybertegic can instantly increase site traffic, which generally leads to more sales and more profit.

As Cybertegic further grows and evolves, the fast-growing company is now offering two new internet marketing services: Video Marketing and Social Media Marketing Internet Services.

In the vast world of cyberspace, online videos, or more popularly known as viral videos, are invading the World Wide Web like wild fire. In fact, one of the most popular sites for watching viral videos is YouTube where an amazingly huge number of videos can be seen. Name it and chances are, it's in YouTube. Viral videos are the future and more and more e-commerce businesses are realizing the importance of tapping this new avenue as a powerful tool in further providing effective Internet marketing services through viral videos.

Equally popular as the viral video, another emerging online phenomenon, is social networking sites like MySpace and Facebook, just to name a few. These sites boast of millions of members around the world. Social media sites have made it possible to communicate instantly with other members through the use of different forms like Internet forums, blogs, vlogs, podcasts, wikis, and many other things. To specifically reach a targeted audience, social media internet marketing services now becomes of great importance.

"Through viral videos and social media sites, which are now the most modern things on the web, we here in Cybertegic can help your company use these powerful new tools in reaching your target market. With our Video and Social Media Internet Marketing Services, we can further help your company succeed and use these two new avenues to further increase your market share and of course, your profits," says James Hsieh, CEO and Founder of Cybertegic.
