Sam Ash and earBuzz announce alliance providing Artists Selling Their Music on earBuzz.com a true 100% of Revenue

HICKSVILLE, New York. (January 15, 2008) -

SamAsh.com, the online and direct mail arm of the largest private music instrument retailer in the nation, and earBuzz, the music website with the highest recoupment from music sales on the internet since 1999, announce a partnership that provides artists and customers of Sam Ash free membership and a true 100% of the purchase price of music sales through earBuzz.com.

SamAsh.com artists will be able to sell digital songs and albums and even physical CDs while retaining all of the purchase price from sales. Sam Ash will provide customers an initial six months membership on earBuzz.com free. A $25 processing fee will be asked for per CD to cover encoding and processing to create a dedicated artist URL site on earBuzz.com. Coupons are available at samash.com.

Sam Ash CEO, David Ash, commented, "earBuzz offers the best site for independent artists to distribute their music on-line, and helps musicians widen their audience quickly and effectively. Also, like Sam Ash, earBuzz offers musicians the best possible deal. We are proud to be associated with earBuzz and to help expand the market for independent artists."

"Sam Ash is the natural partner for earBuzz as the i Sam Ash family has supported musicians with integrity for generations. We are excited that Sam Ash has chosen earBuzz also and look forward to a successful relationship supporting the independent artist community ." says earBuzz founder, Don Kimenker.

Today's announcement coincides with the announcements that earBuzz artists can also place their music on the top-10 worldwide music sites including iTunes through the earBuzz Worldwide Program WWX powered by IRIS Distribution. It was also announced today that earBuzz will be the first major music site to pay artists for sales the same day sales occur with their Sam Day Pay policy. See site for more details.
