In today's economy, the Valcor Business Debt Mediation services are saving small to medium sized businesses. Demand has increased as companies are seeking alternatives to litigation. Valcor provides business a lifeline at a no-success/no-cost fee.

May 16, 2009 - PRLog -- Valcor Arbitration Services, est. 1994 provides businesses a much needed lifeline during the most challenging economy in over 70 years.

Their "Business Debt Mediation Services" provide small to medium sized businesses an alternative to litigation. Valcors Senior Mediation Consultants work directly with both the business owner and the creditor to resolve the debt which then allows both parties to focus back on their businesses again.

David H. Sussman M.A., President/CEO of Valcor says: "The role of the professional Debt Mediator is to help businesses suffering short cash flow problems explain their position to creditors, who often misinterpret a company's failure to pay as a lack of desire to pay. This unfortunate misunderstanding can lead to unnecessary and costly litigation, which could have been avoided by the timely intervention of a trained debt mediator."

Valcor works with several types of business debt: Problem Debts, Disputed Bills, Business Credit Cards, Invoices & Statements, Lawsuits & Judgments, Workers Compensation Premium Arrears, Workers Compensation Mis-classifications, Delinquent Property or Machinery/Office Equipment rental & leases, Business Loans or Mortgage or Leases on Business Property, Any liability overdue by 90 days.

Valcor does NOT work with any kind of Consumer/Personal debt issue or settlement program. They recommend any individuals seeking consumer based credit services to only use legitimate, non-profit credit counseling/education organizations found in each communities throughout America.

Brent Kahlen, Executive Director says "Valcors Debt Mediators negotiate with creditors and reach an agreement to settle the debt for less than the full amount owed. By changing a confrontation to a negotiation, Debt Mediators can often attain a satisfactory settlement with remarkable rapidity. Such an outcome benefits both sides. The settlement provides creditors with immediate cash, prevents undue delay in payment, and avoids the enormous financial and human resource costs of litigation. Debtors have the opportunity to reduce their debt burden, improve their balance sheet, increase cash flow, and devote full attention to the productive tasks of operating the business."

Valcor also provides individuals a way to own their own Business Debt Mediation services through its highly regarded training program. Valcor Arbitration Services started training Affiliates throughout North America and the United Kingdom in 1994. Through Valcor's' high level training program, trained Affiliates are provided a systematized and proven step by step process to follow. Each Affiliate is then provided 12 months of follow-up support which enable the Affiliate to build their business.

Once accepted into the program and trained by Valcor, the Affiliate gains access to their Senior Mediation Executives who act as mentors and consultants.

Over the years, Valcor Affiliates have reported tremendous success using the Business Debt Mediation program. Capt. D. Smith (Ret. US Navy) reports: "Amazingly enough, things moved with the speed of light, and I don't mind telling you the fee of a little over $240,000.00 certainly made my day (week, month, year, decade, etc.) As far as the mechanics were concerned, I found no aspect of, or problem raised in the entire negotiation for which I wasn't prepared by the Valcor Program."

Valcor's program is timely and much needed in today's economy.
