

Award Winning POS Handheld Device

Vectron's POS handheld lets restaurant staff go mobile. Able to run a complete point of sale system, this powerful yet compact device has won several technology awards for innovation.

Aug. 26, 2009 - PRLog -- Using the same screen and technology as the main POS terminal, staff can take orders and payments on the floor.

With full operation even when out of range outside or upstairs, stored data is automatically transmitted back to the POS system. Ordering and cashing up can be done in an instant with rapid data processing.

Easy to use, from a stand-in student to the professional waiter , the POS handheld is designed to support the user in every possible way.

Ultra-light and shock resistant , it can be easily integrated into existing networks. Roaming capability and Bluetooth connection for the latest peripherals both come as standard. A brilliant color display offers graphical display of pictures and icons.

Vectron's mobile POS solution is specifically designed for fast paced, harsh Restaurant environments. Over 1400 Australian sites use Vectron POS solutions including companies like Breadtop, Brunetti, San Churro, Degani and Movenpick. All their systems can be seen on www.vectron.com.au
