Sept. 10, 2009 - PRLog -- Authors Anthony M.T. Majewski and Maximus "Max" are pleased to announce their award winning Childrens book "Dogs Move Too!" is now available in Braille, Daisy Audio, and Large Print Formats.

Anthony and Max partnered with Read How You Want who reformats existing books into high quality, alternative formats quickly, easily, and at price points comparable to standard format books. Read How You Want determined that individuals with learning difficulties could benefit from these book formatting options.

"Max and I felt it was necessary to find a partner that would reformat our books to allow more access to a larger audience especially since we donate part of our sales proceeds to Leader Dogs For The Blind. This new relationship will allow worldwide distribution of our book(s) and is very exciting for Max and myself" says Anthony M.T. Majewski.

About "Dogs Move Too!":

I just found out my father lost his job and we have to move. My name is Maximus, but you can call me "Max." I am a five-year-old yellow English Labrador Retriever and this is my first children's book in a series called, "Read with Max." As you read my story, I'll share my moving adventure with you from my point of view. My book includes many photos of my friends and me during my moving experience. After you finish reading my book, you will know that if I can move, you can move too. The Authors of Dogs Move Too will donate part of their sales proceeds to Leader Dog For The Blind.

"Dogs Move Too! From Max's Point of View" was named the Winner (Childrens Category) in 2009 Beach Book Festival. "Dogs Move Too!" also recently recieved runner up at the 2009 New York and San Francisco Book Festival in the childrens catagory as well recieved Finalist award in three categories at the 2009 Next Generation Indie Book Award. The Categories awarded included Animal/Pets, Best Cover

Design Fiction, and Best Overall Design Fiction .
