With the current status of healthcare and the economy, people are looking for alternatives to achieve overall wellness without breaking the bank.

The Holistic Network of Palm Beach, who launched Sept. 9, is a community based network of holistic health practitioners and eco-conscious businesses working together to help individuals in their quest for stronger healthier lives. The network was founded to build a community of support for those practicing holistic and natural lifestyles and to guide those ready to start on their journey.

The primary focus of the network is to educate individuals and families on how to take control over their healthcare and well-being. The network offers discounts to Palm Beach County-based holistic health services, such as acupuncture, chiropractic, massage, dentistry, and integrative medicine; along with fitness avenues such as yoga, Pilates, and personal training. Members of the network also receive discounts on organic and natural foods, nutritional supplements, and eco-friendly products.

Setting this organization apart from similar models is their commitment to educating and giving back to the Palm Beach Community. They have developed a platform to educate and support the community by planning monthly health and wellness events and utilizing social networking sites like facebook and twitter to stay in touch with their members.

The network has established a health partnership with the School District of Palm Beach County and have also partnered with local non-profit organizations such as the Palm Beach County Reef Rescue and The Annie Appleseed Project. They have vowed to donate a minimum of 10 percent of their overall membership sales to non-profit beneficiaries, confirming their mission not only to educate and provide access to life changing resources, but to make a significant difference within the community.
