

Hair Loss In Women... Wigs? No More!

Hair loss in women.... No more wigs... Just stunning hair!!!

May 6, 2010 - PRLog -- Women who experience hair loss or have noticeable signs of thin age have a way out with hair extension for hair loss from the worldwide known celebrity hairstylist, Rodolfo Valentin and his unique hair infusion extensions - hair extension for hair loss and a solution for hair loss in women.

Well Prepared with a broad familiarity of Hair Infusion Extensions, Rodolfo's methods are specific to the use of hair extension for hair loss which are considered to be one of the most important accessories when enhancing someone's look, when helping with the loss of hair in women. Rodolfo prides himself and his skilled staff who are gifted in the knowledge of female hair loss extensions and cater to any and all hair extension needs for female hair loss. Extensions can be used to add length or short hair extensions can be used to add volume in all textures using only 100% human hair.

In the privacy of Rodolfo Valentin NYC Hair boutique, or at the Rodolfo Valentin NYC in the heart of glamour of Madison Avenue in New York City or at the Rodolfo Valentin Long Island Beauty Center in Long Island, NY, he helps with female hair loss by offering extensions using his famous hair infusion extensions that are available to women, men, as well as those who have ethnic hair.

With over forty years of experience and working with doctors who specialize in hair loss in women, only the hair loss expert of New York, Rodolfo Valentin can distinguish all types of hair loss in women problems, from the trivial to the rigorous. Using non surgical and cosmetically tested products, Rodolfo's hair additives have been confirmed by hundreds of women as the only method that appears, feels, and performs just like their own hair. Just right for both transitory and long lasting hair loss.

Hair loss is typically associated with genetic issues and can be repeatedly inconsistent with particular severities on one or two areas of the head. Alopecia is defined as hair loss caused by disturbing stress or traction and defective and destructive hair extensions.

Trichotillomania, which is the uncontrollable need to pull and twist the hair augments during times of further emotional stress. It has been proven that our lightweight hair infusion extensions help trichotillomania sufferers by giving them a sense of necessitated care when it comes to abusive acts towards the hair.

Drugs and surgery can have tough side effects on hair, especially when the patients are undergoing treatments for cancer, brain surgery, even those who delve in cosmetic surgery.

Chemical abuse is also to blame for hair damage which often happens when one continuously colors and texturizes their hair; perms and relaxers. However, worse effects have been reported from the use of relaxers from the African American community.
