Sept. 13, 2010 - PRLog -- Beading is all about using your imagination to create a work of art from scratch. Imagine row after row of beautiful beads to chose from at the Durham, NC –Intergalactic Bead & Jewelry Show September 25th & 26th at the Marriott Durham Convention Center 10am-5pm.

Show attendees can try mixing and matching the perfect bead combinations to create their own unique hand crafted jewelry.

You'll find an exceptional display of ancient and modern quality beads and jewelry as well as precious and semi precious gemstones, dazzling emeralds, rubies, gorgeous freshwater pearls, and glamorous seed and raku beads. Just starting out? No problem you can choose from tools and kits to start your new jewelry collection.

Rather than looking at thousands of beads online and wondering if the photo is accurate. Come hold the beads in your hand and know exactly the color, size and cut before you buy. No Internet photo or catalogue can give you the true color and feel of the bead.

See thousands of quality beads before you buy... There's a fantastic selection in one easy shopping location. Visitors will be able to examine the beads first hand before they buy and find the perfect bead to create their own unique jewelry.
