Chinelas are a range of foldable footwear designed to be worn after high heels, so they are compact and small enough to go into your handbag. Each pair of Chinelas comes in it's own matching bag. Pull open the drawstring and inside has a zipper pocket that you can keep your ID, lipgloss, keys etc. Once you take out your Chinelas to wear, you can stick your high heels inside the bag to carry home easily.

Chinelas by Michelle have been featured at Mercedes Benz Fashion Week 2012 and HKTDC and are designed in Sydney, Australia by Michelle Chung.

Chinelas by Michelle is an Australian owned brand, and all design and development is done in Sydney, Australia! The brand was created to solve the problem of getting women home comfortably and safely after wearing high heel shoes – and still look great!
