TORONTO - Oct. 12, 2015 - PRLog -- Scalp Micropigmentation, also known as Scalp Tattoo or Hair Tattoo, is a procedure that is painless and does not require any surgery at all. The SMP Artist injects color or pigment in the deep layers of the epidermis using a very sharp needle, with the point being the size of a hair follicle. Classic tattoos require the artist to use a thicker needle and the color or ink is injected deeper in the skin. The classic tattoo procedure is very painful and may produce blood, whereas having a Scalp Tattoo is not painful at all and produces little or no blood at all. The pigment used in Scalp Micropigmentation retains color for up to 10 years, while that of the normal tattooing fades out much faster. The only similarity between Scalp Micropigmentation and classic tattooing is that in the two procedures, color is injected into the skin by making use of a needle. The pigments used by Scalp Esthetica artists is natural, it is iron oxide free, and does not fade or turn green or blue with time. Scalp Esthetica is not a tattoo clinic, and does not make use of tattoo inks or needles. Scalp Tattoo or Hair Tattoo is a specialty of tattooing, just like plastic surgery is a specialty medical procedure. Cosmetic tattooing and Scalp Micropigmentation is the fastest growing industry, and becoming the norm and more mainstream.
