Graduation Cards Shop's unique and patented personalization features are available only on its site. It allows enhanced card design views, layout options, instant previews, advanced text editing features and a dynamic quantity price calculator.

March 8, 2008 - PRLog -- Graduation Cards Shop, the online leader for unique, personalized invitations, announcements and greeting cards, announced the launching of this year's graduation cards that can be customized for any graduation occasion. These exciting and fresh cards are ideal for personalized graduation announcements and custom graduation invitations and join the 1000+ exclusive designs current on its website. Using GraduationCardsShop's patented technology, customers can add their own personal message to any graduation card, select their own ink color, fonts and type size and then instantly preview their own card. This exciting feature allows the customer to see their personalized cards before they buy.

According to Sharon Shelton, president, "Graduation Cards Shop is constantly exploring new ways to improve our customer service. Based on customer responses, we've expanded our graduation collection to add more vivid colors and designs. Our personalization and preview were developed to give our customers powerful design tools to create their own unique and custom graduation announcements and graduation invitations cards."

Graduation Cards Shop has arranged its collection of cards by category to allow you to browse the type graduation card you are seeking. These Categories include:

College and University Graduation: Graduating from college or university is a culmination of years of quality education. For some, the anticipation has been just too much! And you know that your excitement is culminating in a grand celebration, the much awaited graduation ceremony. As you don your graduation robes and receive your diplomas elegantly on the dais, you surely want to see your loved ones cheering for you with pride and uncontained joy. You have been building a strong foundation for yourself, aided by teachers and guardians. Now is the time to tell the world that you are ready to face the wide world by sending college graduation announcements or university graduation announcements cards with unique styles!

High School Graduation: It is that time again – high school graduation fever is approaching. There is a buzz all around as so many young students, bubbling with enthusiasm, are getting ready to welcome a new phase of life. High school graduation is indeed, a milestone for any student. It is the time when, head held high, the high school student steps up on the stage to receive his high school graduation diploma amidst happy applause from the crowd. High school graduation brings with it so many new decisions. What is next? That is a question on the mind of all high school graduates.

HomeSchool Graduation: Graduating from homeschool is a different perspective on education. Some parents believe they are the best teachers, so home school is sometimes considered a good way to educate a child. Though you do not follow the rigid schedule of a regular school, the facts remain that homeschool is also a school and is rapidly growing in popularity! If you are a student, you are probably facing this feverish excitement enroute to your homeschool graduation. If you are a parent, you are probably wondering what is on your child's mind with respect to after his homeschool graduation. Is he anxious, excited or simply confused?

Junior High School, 8th Grade and Middle School Graduation: Graduation for middle school, 8th grade and junior high school are all very important times in a young person's life. And graduating from any of these education levels is just as important as they pave the way towards high school. Whichever grade a child is graduating from, it's important to have middle school graduation cards, 8th grade graduation invitations or junior high school graduation announcements.

Kindergarten and Preschool Graduation: Kindergarten - Just the word sound cutes! Of course, kindergarten represents an environment for your four or five year old to discover the beautiful world around her. Preschool and kindergarten are meant to teach the kids how to share and care, make new friends and spend some time on their own, away from the warm cocoon of parents and home. Of course, kindergarten is meant to be a home away from home for the tiny tots. It is a great opportunity for them to learn new things on their own, ask questions and get the answers. It is a stepping-stone for future education. Kindergarten graduating is a cause to celebrate. Preschools usually have a small graduation ceremony to honor the graduating kids. You can make kindergarten graduation announcements on behalf of your preschooler.

Law School, Med School, Voc-Tech and Other Graduations: The word "Graduation" makes you sit up and think. You have so many options before you. For some, a career might be waiting. For others, further studies might beckon. For some college graduates, getting married and settling down might seem a good option. No matter what direction you are headed, your education will definitely help you choose wisely. This means that graduation is a milestone in your life. You are about to embark on a quest. Further in life you will meet many challenges and you are confident that your education has prepared you to face them head on! These graduations include Law School, Medical School, Veterinary School, Trade School, Voc-Tech, Vocation School, GED, Administrative Medical Assistant, Phlebotomy, Day Care Management, Office Assistant, Voc-Tech, Special Education, Physical Therapy, Pharmacy Graduation, Technical School, Computer Software & CIS Graduation and more.

Nursing School Graduation: Many nurses believe that nursing is not only their vocation, it is their calling; that they are doing something for the society. Not everyone is suitable for becoming a nurse. Along with all the dedication and hard toil, a lot of patience and kindness is needed. Nursing school graduation is a mark of respect and appreciation of your determination. Naturally, your nursing school graduation announcements must be very good, in keeping with your eagerly awaited, wonderful nursing school graduation ceremony.

Party and Open House for Graduation: Graduation is the stage where you look back at many years in the education process and hope that will someday be of great help to you. A mound of decisions is waiting to be made. But at the same time, an overwhelming feeling of accomplishment soars through your being. As they say, in the words of a Dr. Seuss, "with brains in the head as well as feet in the shoes, you can always steer yourself in whatever direction you wish to choose!" Graduation is a time to celebrate. And what better way to do so than by giving a graduation party?

Thank You Cards for Graduation: Thanking someone for a favor is a traditional practice, just like you thank people for attending your graduation ceremony or graduation party, ideally in person or through personalized graduation party thank you cards, like homeschool graduation thank you cards. College Graduation or University Graduation Thank You Cards are the hottest cards in demand every year. But there are cute graduation thank you cards for the little ones! They are cute, photo printed, unique, customized and printable discount thank you cards. There are special Kindergarten Graduation Thank You Cards and Preschool Graduation Thank You Cards for the preschoolers.

Wording Ideas, Wording Verses and Sayings for Graduation Cards: The nostalgia and the decisions and the questions will follow graduation, but right now, all you have to do is soak up the moments as they come.
