

Clubbing Tutus Selling Out

Why do grown women want to dress up in tutus? And why do they want to parade round the pubs and clubs in one?

June 27, 2008 - PRLog -- A strange , but fun, craze is sweeping the nation.

Women of all ages are turning to tutus for some bizarre reason.

Blushdance is just one of many dance shops and dance websites across the country that has experienced this craze first hand. These tutus , also known as clubbing tutus, are orderd in a variety of colours with usually a group of women choosing to all wear matchign tutus.Hot Pink seems to be the favourite.Could this simply be a case of inside every woman is a little girl who secretly always wanted to be a prima ballerina? In all the doom and gloom we see on the news every day this is one way to escape. Pick an occasion , be it birthdays or hen nights, choose the colour and order your tutus in.Then pick your tights or footless tights to match.Pamela Mann footless tights proving to be the favourites, and some younger adults choose brightly coloured legwarmers too, choose a top and off you go dressed to kill.

Whatever the reasons for this craze it certainly doesn't look like it is going to stop as Blushdance is taking regular orders for clubbing tutus and custom orders are always welcome.

Of course you can always simply order your tutu to wear at home, maybe to do the housework in, and live your youth again and imagine you are the prima ballerina you always dreamed of being.

If nothing else these clubbing tutus are fun, cheap and cheerful and add a bit of laughter back into our lives.
