FEATURING

San Blas, Secluded Beaches and Islands, Authentic Kuna Indian Village.

ITINERARY BY ROAD

Day 1 –Go to San Blas

We will pick your party up to go by 4x4 to San Blas, the ride take 4 hours approximate in a rustic and scenic rainforest trail. San Blas are a group of 370 islands approx. located in the Caribbean off the coast of Panama. Many of the San Blas islands are habited by their indigenous Indian tribe, the Kuna; they have been resisting changes to their culture since the Spanish first arrived over 500 years ago. They have actually done a pretty good job of maintaining their way of life. The San Blas islands have its own government, and each island is run by a chief. Tourism is limited to only a few of the islands, and you must get permission from the chief before visiting any of the islands. Electricity and running water are not found in the outer islands. Even with these barriers, some of the Kuna have decided to share their world with outsiders and have set up small lodges for a few visitors at a time. When you visit the San Blas, you will see why they could become a popular destination. These pristine islands are picture-perfect tropical islands covered with white sand and coconut trees. 3 fantastic days that you go back in time and find out how you can be rich and happy without money. (LD)

Day 2 –Beach, Culture and more Beach and Culture :)

After tasting the delicious Kuna's breakfast your party will be transfered to some of the unique and pristines islands with white sand beaches, your party will spend the day relaxing on some beaches, then you will be transfers to the kuna's town to learn more about the amazing culture and traditions . (BLD)
