While you could create your own Diaper Baby Cakes, <http://www.cards-411.com/diaper-baby-cakes/> most of us don't have the time to tie ribbon around dozens of individual diapers then assembled everything with tape. Plus, some of us just don't have the creativity, the patience, or the craft skills necessary to make the type of baby cakes we want the guest of honor to have. Remember lots of people will be seeing these diaper cakes baby. Buying one might be a better choice. However, before you buy there are some things to consider.

Diaper Baby Cakes Buying Tip #1

If you are planning on buying shower cakes, find out what brand of diaper was used to create the finished product. Anyone who has been a parent knows there are some real differences between the quality of diapers and sellers of Baby Diaper Cakes, <http://www.cardsshoppe.com/baby-shower-invitations/baby-diaper-cakes.htm> are probably more inclined to use the cheapest brands on the market that are not always the best.

Since the purpose of the cakes for babyshower is also to provide something useful for the parents, you want to make sure the diapers are the same brand they will be using for the baby. If the Diaper Cakes for the baby shower is being made from scratch, ask if you can pay a little extra for the diapers you want to be used in the cake.

Baby Shower Diaper Cake Buying Tip #2

Another important question to ask is how the tiers were assembled in the finished cake. Because the diapers should be easily removed from the cake for later use, the tiers should never be attached using anything other than adhesive tape. If glue was used, the diapers will be practically useless and that's a huge waste considering the cost of diapers and of a cake.

If the cake has not been assembled yet, you could ask to have the tiers sent to you without being assembled then you can do the finishing touches using tape to make sure the diaper baby cake, <http://www.express-invitations.com/baby-shower-invitations/> can be easily taken apart by the new parents.

Diaper Baby Cakes Buying Tip #3

Make sure to ask about the products being included as the accents and embellishments to the baby cakes. Obviously, the diapers should be new but some sellers will sneak in used items as a way to save on their own costs. Most people don't feel comfortable reusing some items, such as pacifiers, especially from babies they never met before. Every item in the diaper cake should be brand new. Don't buy one if that's not the case. Or buy the Baby Diaper Cakes without those items and add them yourself later.

If you do have them included in the Diaper Baby Cakes, make sure to ask about the products that are included, such as which brands they are. Make sure you get products the parents are going to use for their baby so nothing ends up being wasted.
