April 17, 2009 - PRLog -- The Luxurious Hair Boutique is proud to announce Chanta Patton as its official Spokes Model. "Her inner and outer beauty and spirited personality shines through in everything she does", says Chloe Marks Marketing Director for The Luxurious Hair Boutique. So the next time you turn on that TV, open that magazine, or see that billboard, you can trust that the beautiful Extensions, lace front wigs, full lace wigs she rocks are provided by The Luxurious Hair Boutique.

Chanta Patton is a versatile model who has over a decade of experience in the fashion and entertainment industry. As a child, Chanta participated and placed top ten in statewide pageants in her hometown, Raleigh, N.C. She then moved to Baltimore, Maryland where she attended college on an academic scholarship, studying applied mathematics. During college, the ever-so-famous television show "America's Next Top Model" came to Baltimore scouting for participants through a citywide model search. That day, Chanta skipped cheerleading practice and caught the subway to the model search. She walked away as Baltimore's Next Top Model and a potential contestant for America's Next Top Model. Although she never actually participated on the CW network show, she won this title twice in a row and became inspired to pursue modeling in a major market such as Los Angeles.

After graduating college on the Dean's List with honors, she moved to Los Angeles to pursue modeling full time. Immediately, she began working. Appearing in a handful of music videos, such "Dangerous" by singer Akon ft. Kardinal and performing live on stage at the MTV Video Music Awards "Whatever you Like" with rapper T.I., Patton began to feel comfortable in front of the camera, learning first hand camera tricks and techniques. She began creating a buzz for herself when she graced the cover of King Magazine and Black Men's Magazine (twice).

Chanta has been featured in many national commercials for brand names such as Wendy's and Nike/Footlocker and has been featured in countless print-ad campaigns. Today, her acting career takes precedence over her modeling career and she strives to be a powerful and memorable actress. In addition to acting/modeling, she tutors Los Angeles inner-city youth grades (K-8) in mathematics.

Her motto: A positive attitude may not solve all your problems, but it will annoy enough people to make it worth the effortJ
