

Boca Raton Plastic Surgeon Agrees With Carboxytherapy and Mesotherapy Warnings

Danger in the unqualified treatments of carboxytherapy and mesotherapy.

Aug. 5, 2009 - PRLog -- A warning was issued by a major plastic surgery organization regarding misleading and potentially dangerous treatments called carboxytherapy and mesotherapy injections recently: (http://www.prweb.com/releases/Carboxytherapy/Mesotherapy_warnings/prweb2690464.htm.)

Carboxytherapy Injections inject carbon dioxide under the skin to reduce cellulite, treat bags under the eyes, stretch marks, or even can be used for fat sculpting. The danger, however, is that these injections can release gas bubbles into blood vessels which can cause blindness. Mesotherapy is a mixture of vitamins, drugs, and enzymes which claim to treat cellulite and weightloss. The safety and efficacy of this product is not fully understood.

Drs. Jason Pozner and David Goldberg of Sanctuary Plastic Surgery in Boca Raton strongly advocates only seeking medical treatment of this kind from a professional. Moreover, the nature and composition of these "miracle" injections have not fully been qualified by an authoritative body and should be carefully scrutinized.
