

Redskins Chef Mike Stevenson, Head Chef At The Bishop John T. Walker Memorial Dinner

Chef Mike Stevenson will prepare sumptuous fare for the 2010 Africare Fundraising Gala

Nov. 4, 2010 - PRLog -- This Friday November 5, personal celebrity chef Michael Stevenson will add another accomplishment to his impressive resume as the lead cook for the 2010 Bishop John T. Walker Memorial Dinner.

The annual event is hosted by Africare, a leading non-profit organization specializing in African aid. It is also the oldest and largest African-American led organization in that field and has become a staple on the Washington DC fundraising scene. This year's event will honor his Excellency, Nelson Mandela for his commitment to South African freedom and his contribution to the promotion of peace. His daughter, Zindzi Mandela will accept the honor on his behalf. The gala brings together over 1500 national and international government leaders, the African Diplomatic Corps and representatives from multinational corporations among other attendees.

Some of the entrees to be served include Mozambican Seafood, Lamb & Lobster and Heirloom Tomato, Avocado and Hearts of Palm Crouton Salad in addition to a sumptuous assortment of hors d'oeuvres. All dishes were carefully selected by Chef Mike after extensive research into the personal favorites of His Excellency, Nelson Mandela. Menu items will be served with Peach Nectar Cocktail and Boabab Fruit Nectar Cocktail among other beverages.

"I'm really excited to be cooking for this event. It's for a great cause and the opportunity to cook for the family of his Excellency is once in a life time", said Chef Mike.

The event will be held at the National Building Museum in Washington, D.C. For more information on the event, visit www.africare.org.
