

Post-performance reception celebrating the Dana Tai Soon Burgess Dance Company's newest creation

The Diplomats of Dance Society will host a post-performance champagne reception with Choreographer Dana Tai Soon Burgess and his dancers.

WASHINGTON - Feb. 10, 2016 - PRLog -- The Diplomats of Dance Society is excited to announce a post-performance champagne reception in celebration of the newest dance work by the Dana Tai Soon Burgess Dance Company (DTSBDC). On February 28, 2016 at 2:00pm and 6:00pm the public is invited to a free dance performance at the Smithsonian National Portrait Gallery. Following the 6:00pm performance, the Diplomats of Dance Society will host a reception at NoPa in celebration of the dance company, tickets can be purchased at <http://diplomatsatnopa.eventbrite.com> in advance at $20 for society members and $40 for non-members.

Time after time, the DTSBDC provides global audiences with cross-cultural perspectives while utilizing visual, musical, and spoken arts as well. Choreographer Dana Tai Soon Burgess's latest creation is no different. Inspired by Alexander Gardner's famous Civil War-era images, Burgess promises a powerful and moving performance in, "The Foster Suite: The Remains of Loss and Longing".

The Diplomats of Dance Society is an organization dedicated to highlighting and supporting the DTSBDC's unique artistic and cultural work both in the United States and abroad. Young professionals and art-interested Washingtonians alike come together at events throughout the year to applaud Burgess and his dance company. Members and donations for the Diplomats of Dance Society directly support 'dance diplomacy' as DC's foremost modern dance group prepares to embark on two international tours as a U.S. State Department cultural envoy in 2016.
